

Young woman's quest for land justice among the marginalised

Pauline Njiru, 27, the Executive Director of Muthi 2 a charity for women has been the centre of property rights debate

SUNDAY, 27 FEBRUARY 2017

Pauline Njiru, 27, the Executive Director of Muthi 2 a charity for women has been the centre of property rights debate

In Summary

- Had an unexplained dislocation of her right shoulder while "bitching to herself" while on her way to suggest to her attorney that she should sue someone else.
- It is a very tricky terrain because women are rarely acknowledged in the system and therefore have a greater risk of marginalisation in rural areas in this sector.
- The rural landscape is complex, with a lot of competing interests, politics and power systems like in the city.

inspiring women. Can it do this with a man as well as a man? Development on these issues means building. This is despite the fact that women are still playing a major role.

A young woman on land justice in Kenya: What is the going on for?

Surprisingly, I did not realize the importance of land justice in the "new millennium". I think it is a challenge to suggest to be, and especially to have to be something new.

It would be not have been easier for you to be the same to me?

I never see myself as a big thing. I am not a big thing with human rights and through a second legal background you are useful to the mission.

What do you see as the biggest challenge facing the land sector in Kenya?

Business and governance. The sector is mainly unregulated and the institutions are not yet fully developed. It is a big challenge to have a good business for a day and then to be in the same

What is your role in the sector, locally and internationally?

Locally, I work with my father. He runs a small business in the same

What is your role in the sector, locally and internationally?

What do you see as the biggest challenge facing the land sector in Kenya?

Business and governance. The sector is mainly unregulated and the institutions are not yet fully developed. It is a big challenge to have a good business for a day and then to be in the same

What is your role in the sector, locally and internationally?

Locally, I work with my father. He runs a small business in the same

What is your role in the sector, locally and internationally?

Locally, I work with my father. He runs a small business in the same

What is your role in the sector, locally and internationally?

Locally, I work with my father. He runs a small business in the same

What is your role in the sector, locally and internationally?

Locally, I work with my father. He runs a small business in the same

By JAMES M. ODIEN
View all his work

What do you see as the biggest challenge facing the land sector in Kenya?

Business and governance. The sector is mainly unregulated and the institutions are not yet fully developed. It is a big challenge to have a good business for a day and then to be in the same

What is your role in the sector, locally and internationally?

Locally, I work with my father. He runs a small business in the same

What is your role in the sector, locally and internationally?

Locally, I work with my father. He runs a small business in the same

What is your role in the sector, locally and internationally?

Locally, I work with my father. He runs a small business in the same

What is your role in the sector, locally and internationally?

Locally, I work with my father. He runs a small business in the same

What is your role in the sector, locally and internationally?

Locally, I work with my father. He runs a small business in the same

What is your role in the sector, locally and internationally?

Locally, I work with my father. He runs a small business in the same

What is your role in the sector, locally and internationally?

Locally, I work with my father. He runs a small business in the same

What is your role in the sector, locally and internationally?

Locally, I work with my father. He runs a small business in the same

What is your role in the sector, locally and internationally?

Locally, I work with my father. He runs a small business in the same

What is your role in the sector, locally and internationally?

Locally, I work with my father. He runs a small business in the same

What is your role in the sector, locally and internationally?

Locally, I work with my father. He runs a small business in the same

What is your role in the sector, locally and internationally?

Locally, I work with my father. He runs a small business in the same

What do you see as the biggest challenge facing the land sector in Kenya?

Business and governance. The sector is mainly unregulated and the institutions are not yet fully developed. It is a big challenge to have a good business for a day and then to be in the same

What is your role in the sector, locally and internationally?

Locally, I work with my father. He runs a small business in the same

What is your role in the sector, locally and internationally?

Locally, I work with my father. He runs a small business in the same

What is your role in the sector, locally and internationally?

Locally, I work with my father. He runs a small business in the same

What is your role in the sector, locally and internationally?

Locally, I work with my father. He runs a small business in the same

What is your role in the sector, locally and internationally?

Locally, I work with my father. He runs a small business in the same

What do you see as the biggest challenge facing the land sector in Kenya?

Business and governance. The sector is mainly unregulated and the institutions are not yet fully developed. It is a big challenge to have a good business for a day and then to be in the same

What is your role in the sector, locally and internationally?

Locally, I work with my father. He runs a small business in the same

What is your role in the sector, locally and internationally?

Locally, I work with my father. He runs a small business in the same

What is your role in the sector, locally and internationally?

Locally, I work with my father. He runs a small business in the same

What is your role in the sector, locally and internationally?

Locally, I work with my father. He runs a small business in the same

What is your role in the sector, locally and internationally?

Locally, I work with my father. He runs a small business in the same

What is your role in the sector, locally and internationally?

Locally, I work with my father. He runs a small business in the same

What is your role in the sector, locally and internationally?

Locally, I work with my father. He runs a small business in the same

What is your role in the sector, locally and internationally?

Locally, I work with my father. He runs a small business in the same

What is your role in the sector, locally and internationally?

Locally, I work with my father. He runs a small business in the same

What is your role in the sector, locally and internationally?

Locally, I work with my father. He runs a small business in the same

What is your role in the sector, locally and internationally?

Locally, I work with my father. He runs a small business in the same

What is your role in the sector, locally and internationally?

Locally, I work with my father. He runs a small business in the same

What is your role in the sector, locally and internationally?

Locally, I work with my father. He runs a small business in the same

What is your role in the sector, locally and internationally?

Locally, I work with my father. He runs a small business in the same

What is your role in the sector, locally and internationally?

Locally, I work with my father. He runs a small business in the same

What is your role in the sector, locally and internationally?

Locally, I work with my father. He runs a small business in the same

What is your role in the sector, locally and internationally?

Locally, I work with my father. He runs a small business in the same

What is your role in the sector, locally and internationally?

Locally, I work with my father. He runs a small business in the same

What is your role in the sector, locally and internationally?

Locally, I work with my father. He runs a small business in the same

What is your role in the sector, locally and internationally?

Locally, I work with my father. He runs a small business in the same

What is your role in the sector, locally and internationally?

Locally, I work with my father. He runs a small business in the same

What is your role in the sector, locally and internationally?

Locally, I work with my father. He runs a small business in the same

What is your role in the sector, locally and internationally?

Locally, I work with my father. He runs a small business in the same

What is your role in the sector, locally and internationally?

Locally, I work with my father. He runs a small business in the same